Do you think Jesus really cared who the crowds thought he was? Most of the pervading wisdom is that great people do not care what others think about them, or who they are. As long as they are true to God and themselves, that is what truly matters to them. Was this question then just a set-up question to get the disciples thinking so he could ask them, what his closer friends and disciples thought? I suggest that maybe he really did care who they thought he was. Generally it is also true that people who love others care deeply what the ones they love think. Jesus' love was deeper than the love of any man who walked this earth. He came to save all people so he probably did care what the crowds thought, but this caring did affect what he knew he needed to do. He told them bluntly even though they did not want to hear it, "The Son of Man must suffer greatly and be rejected by the elders, the chief priests, and the scribes and be killed..." I would bet that is all they could hear. At that point they probably could not hear, "and on the third day be raised." Jesus, because of his love, could not compromise what he was called to do. And he would not let his disciples compromise either, "If anyone wishes to come after me, he must deny himself and take up his cross daily and follow me." He sounds like a good coach warning the players that if they are going to be on this team there is a lot expected of them and there can be no compromise to get the job done. Yes Jesus cared deeply he cared too much to let us followers try to do an end run around the cross.

In the aftermath of abortion, the choice for fathers of aborted children is to either accept the biological reality of their fatherhood and grieve the loss and seek forgiveness, or to continue denying what is inwardly known and swell to the ranks of hollowed men.

(Vincent Rue, Ph.D. in pamphlet titled "The Hollow Men," USCCB, Secretariat for Pro-Life Activities)

Stewardship Moment – "If anyone wishes to come after me, he must deny himself and take up his cross daily and follow me." We are not very good at "denying ourselves" in our society. Our current economic situation is evidence of what happens when people think they can have everything they want. Jesus calls us to set our own personal "wants" aside so that we have the resources to follow Him instead.

Support Our Seminarian With Prayer - On June 25-26 there will be an opportunity for all parishioners to sign a "PRAYER BOUQUET" for Ethan Kaste in the gathering space after Mass. This is one way we can show our support for Ethan as he discerns his vocation as a priest. Please show your support for him by adding your name to the prayer document, designed by Suellen Dusek, daughter-in-law of Pat and Greg Dusek. If you are gone that weekend, there will be another chance to sign on July 9-10 in the east entrance.
