Jesus tells a story which many have called the "Good Samaritan" parable. As Living Liturgy says, "The parable of the Good Samaritan is so well known that its meaning has become part of our everyday vocabulary. For example, Catholic hospitals in the United States carry the name Good Samaritan. When someone does a compassionate deed, we often say the person is a good Samaritan. Jesus teaches that a good Samaritan is, in fact, a good neighbor." However, the Samaritans were not always good neighbors. In fact, in the immediately preceding chapter nine of Luke's Gospel, which we read just two Sundays ago, the Samaritans would not offer hospitality to Jesus because he was headed to Jerusalem. James and John, two "good" Jewish men, wanted to call down fire upon them, but Jesus rebuked them. The Jews and the Samaritans were not friends in the ancient world. They had different religions and cultures. So, it is quite amazing that in today's Gospel, the very next chapter of Luke, Jesus tells the story about the Samaritan who was the hero. He was moved to compassion at the suffering of a stranger along the road. That road was a very dangerous road. It had the nickname something like "the way of blood" because so many were assaulted and robbed along that road. Yet, the Samaritan was willing to take the risk, the one who was a neighbor to the one in need. Since it was so dangerous one could say that he laid down his life for a stranger. Jesus would counsel to love the enemy. He laid down his life for us so this Samaritan was a "Christ Figure." I guess Jesus could see the hope in people. He did not categorize people even though the Samaritans had not been a neighbor to him.

*** Right to Life ***

"All direct attacks on innocent human life, such as abortion and euthanasia, strike at the house's foundation. These directly and immediately violate the human person's most fundamental right – the right to life. Neglect of these issues is the equivalent of building our house on sand. Such attacks cannot help but be ultimately destructive of other human rights." Archbishop Charles Chaput of Philadelphia in a column titled, "Living the Gospel of Life." 10/18/13 (Catholic Philadelphia)

Prayer – That we may never forget that each abortion kills a baby in violation of God's law.

Problem Pregnancy – Call 701-284-6601.

Vocation Meditations From the Holy Father - Pope

Francis - Behind and before every vocation to the priesthood or consecrated life there is always strong and intense prayer from someone: a grandmother, a grandfather, a mother, a father, a community.

...Vocations are born in prayer and prayer, and only in prayer can they persevere and bear fruit.

Stewardship Moment – "Jesus said to him, 'Go and do likewise.'" Luke 10:37 This was Jesus' command at the end of the Good Samaritan story. But did you know that the Samaritans and the Jews despised each other? The moral of the story is to love our neighbor, who may be someone you don't like, without expecting anything in return.
